CRIMINAL COMPLAINT (CONTINUATION PAGE)

up to the door of the chamber and according to witnesses raised his hands, and either pushed, hit, or kicked the door, and stated open the "GD" door and nobody keeps me out. The double door entrance of the chamber had glass windows in each door and would have allowed for easy visibility into the same. The defendant pushed the chamber door into and struck the HOD Doorman, Logan Casterline, as he entered the chamber. After the incident Mr. Casterline complained of pain and sought medical attention, on site and at a local hospital. Delegate Sharon Malcolm was interviewed after the incident and stated that while she was in the chamber, as the session was starting, the defendant stepped around her and advised her to get the "F" out of his way. She stated he then took his elbow and pushed her out of his way. She stated that she was out of his way and that he had to come up behind her in order to hit her with his elbow. She stated that he was already around her and had to turn to strike her. Delegate Malcolm stated that she wasn't initially hurt, but she was sore, and later advised the Capitol Police that she had sought medical attention for pain that she had been experiencing on the right side of her chest and shoulder, which is the area the defendant struck her. Delegate Malcolm has further advised, that she has continued to experience pain, and is still under physician's care for this injury. Based on information obtained from witness statements, the complainant believes that a battery occurred on Sharon Malcolm and Logan Casterline
